Committee Issues New Report: *The Quick List

Our phone rings. “Where do I look in state law to find the Brown Act?” asks the assistant city manager. Later, a constituent sends us an email message asking, “What’s the cite for the redevelopment law?” And, of course, there are the never-ending questions about LAFCOs, Proposition 218, subdivisions, and more.

The Senate Local Government Committee’s staff got tired of looking up the same answers to the same questions, so we wrote them down. The Quick List was born.

The Second Edition of The Quick List is an annotated glossary of local government statutes. Newly revised by Helen Ho, the 2009 version lists nearly 200 key state laws, their statutory citations, and handy references. Also included are step-by-step directions for retrieving public documents and a list of helpful websites.

Useful to local officials, lobbyists, legislative staffers, and many other researchers, The Quick List is now available from:
